Hello there!

Remember those stamped addressed envelopes? Well, an awful lot of you have been forgetting them – and it's not good enough!

Before I really blow my top, thanks to all the rest of you who DO send them in with your letters, because it helps me a great deal in two ways. First of all, it saves me the time it takes typing out an envelope (usually after deciphering almost illegible handwriting!). And also, of course, it saves the cost of the stamp.

Now I'd be the first to agree that a stamp doesn't cost all that much – not when you've only got to buy ONE of them . . . But when you've got to pay out for, say, a hundred a day it mounts up terrifyingly fast!!!

So do try to remember in future, won't you? It's for your own sake as well that I'm reminding you; because from now on I'm going to get really tough about this.

If there's no s.a.e., your letter will be put on one side till I've answered every single letter that HAS got one. And, with the amount of mail I get every morning, that's as good as telling you that you needn't expect any answer at all!

I'm sorry it's got to be this way, but you've been warned!

O.K. . . . Lecture over, you'll be glad to hear.

Now, on to the other things I wanted to say . . . First of all, I've had a letter from Emma Glaisher who lives in Kent and whose Dad brought her and a friend up to London Airport in the hope of seeing David when he arrived.

Jane Arnell was also there, hoping to get David's autograph . . . How do I know? Well, Emma wrote to tell me that her father found an autograph book with Jane's name inside it on the ground at the airport. So, if you're reading this, Jane, get in touch with me and I'll put you on to Emma, so that you can get your book back!

Another plea from me – to all those Partridge people who are doing their level best to keep their names and addresses a secret! For instance, Cora (a Fan Club member who wrote in for a back issue), Marina (who's paid for a six month subscription to the mag). Then there's Linda Evans, who sent for a poster of David but hasn't told me her address – and as you're not a Fan Club member, Linda, I've no way of finding it out!

These are just a few of many. In fact, some of you just put your postal order in an envelope, without giving even your Christian name and without telling me what it's for either! I've done my best to be psychic in a lot of cases . . . but some miracles are just out of my range!
