

JULIE GOES TO HOLLYWOOD

DAVID CASSIDY

Dreams can come true! To prove it we tell you the almost fairytale story of how Julie Towers won a competition in FAB —and then met David Cassidy...

Julie was serenaded by singing waiters at the Great American Food and Beverage Company restaurant in Santa Monica.

Beside the 'river' which runs through the centre of Disneyland Julie stands in front of the paddle-steamer Mark Twain.

Julie specially enjoyed Steve Goodman's act at the Troubadour but Earl Scruggs' group was just a bit too Country Music for her taste.

WHEN fourteen-year-old JULIE TOWERS from Hinckley, Leics., left Heathrow Airport one chilly Sunday morning just before Christmas it was the beginning of a week of luxury and excitement such as few girls experience in a whole lifetime. As winner of FAB's super feat DAVID CASSIDY' competition (run in co-operation with SUPERSOFT) Julie was on her way to Hollywood, with her sister GEORGINA (lucky girl) to keep her company. In the moment she arrived at the airport to the time she needed treat followed treat so fast that it was hard to keep track or take in all the experiences. Among the highlights of the trip were luxury BOAC flights via New York to Los Angeles (including an express Jumbo-jet return, complete with in-flight film and three-star meals and service) and a stay at the beautiful Continental Hyatt House Hotel on famed Sunset Strip in glamorous Hollywood.

Julie loved lazing by the rooftop pool, gazing out over panoramic views of Los Angeles and the millionaire homes in the surrounding hills. The hotel Coffee Shop not only served delicious food but provided a meeting-place for many visiting star groups—such as MOTT THE HOOPLE—who chose the Hyatt House as their Hollywood base.

Luxurious and friendly though it was in the hotel, there was little time to laze around because Julie was out and about visiting film and television studios, sampling local dishes—like king-size hamburgers and Mexican tacos, joining recording sessions with stars like MICKEY DOLENZ, touring fairytale Disneyland, spending her £50 prize money in the smart Beverly Hills shops, or being escorted to the famous Troubadour where most of the great names in pop have appeared, or taking in MANFRED MANN's act at the Whisky A Go Go with JANEY MILSTEAD, FAB's fabulous girl-around-Hollywood, who was thrilled to take Julie whizzing around, as she hunted out news for FAB.

Of course the high spot of the whole trip was the day Julie actually met David. He was filming The Partridge Family on the Screen Gems lot and Julie—all prettied up in some luxury make-up from Yardley—was his guest there for a whole glorious afternoon.

"When I first met him I was so nervous everything I was going to say went right out of my head," she says. "but I needn't have worried because he was so kind, and seemed a little shy too—about meeting me! He asked lots of questions about how I won the trip and where I came from and how long I was staying. He teased
