

TEEN SCENE '73!

New ideas . . . new faces . . .
new ways of living . . .

STATESIDE SECRETS!

... what U.S. Teens are wearing, doing, watching, saying ...

me was when America took cond place when it came to w rave ideas. This was iring the heyday of the verpool craze, of course, d now, once again, we here Britain are looking to ateside shores for our in- irations and fave pin-up ys. Those lucky U.S. Teens ve Darling David, Donny d Co., right there on their orsteps and I'm afraid ht now we here on this side it have to be content with e occasional visit and the d concert that these super- ira can fit in! Never mind, i do have Marc, Elton and d to keep the flag flying ie so maybe we're not ing so bad! Hang onto ur hats then for a complete ture of what's happening o other side of the Atlantic! nican teens are earing ...

unky plaid coats and kets as Winter nears its d; scalloped sleeved eaters over long-sleeved uses; jeans! jeans! jeans! . . . appliqued, patched, lti-coloured, sequinned, tling . . . you name it and the name of the game is definitely do-your-own-style!; long super dresses for romantic nights with soft ruffled blouses all buttons and bows; casual co-ordinates with lots of lovely accessories like big leather belts, fistfuls of silver rings and badges everywhere! American teens are saying . . . Their country must be saved from pollution . . . Jonathan Livingstone Seagull is the book to read . . . Come on over and see us - plane fares are getting cheaper for young people . . . American teens are raving . . .

We DO care,

Care, care, care . . . that's the message of '73. No more sitting back and just wondering what can be done. Show real concern. Help the old, the homeless and the people without friends. Make them feel that even if the rest of the world doesn't worry about their problems, YOU do. Involve yourself in the fight against pollution and litter.

Don't just grumble amongst yourselves how bad things are getting - actually do something. Organize litter-bug weekends to tidy up your town and local countryside, paint bright posters (reminding everyone to keep their rubbish to themselves) and display them in your bedroom window. Keep your eyes on the lovely trees in your area and make sure they're not pulled down without some fuss being made!

Care about your looks. The face in fashion this year has a fresh, outdoor sparkle. Boots No. 7 have the right idea with their Country Colour eye shadows at 37p. There's muted greens, browns and earthy beiges - ideal for daytime.

But if you want to look really feminine in the evenings, choose Maybelline's Super Frost eyeshadow at 22p. It's smooth, frosted powder shadow that comes in soft, shimmering shades. And wear those natural softer shadows with a brown or brownish/black mascara, never black as it's much too hard.

Look after your shape . . . waist-lines are back, I'm afraid. No hiding that spare-tyre under a smock! Skirts with waist-clinging elastic are all the rage, just like the one our model is wearing. Take her tip and get doing those waist trimming exercises (she shows you a very good one in the picture). Check those lazy tummy muscles and breath IN! In '73 it's the girl with zing and sparkle who'll get noticed. Make sure she looks like you!

oh yes we do!

Over David and Donny and Michael just as we are here . . . That the next big stars are The Williams Boys and Rick Springfield . . . About T. Rex album The Slider but the group itself is slow to catch on . . .

American teens are watching . . . Some super TV shows we don't see here. Like: The Brady Bunch . . . The Partridge Family . . . (still only being seen in some areas of the U.K. Shame!) Non-stop TV with up-to-date movies!

American teens are whispering . . . That rock star Melanie (no relation!) is sick of her pretty-pretty image! That Jack Cassidy and Shirley Jones (David's Dad and Stepmum) are about to get together again after their marriage break-up. Let's hope so for David's sake . . . That going steady is just the greatest, happiest thing in the whole world!

American teens are mad about . . . Milk shakes . . . hamburgers . . . chocolate cake . . . Hershey bars . . . Pepsis . . . Cokes . . . (don't they ever get spots?) Seeing other countries . . . every teen tries to save up for a trip to Europe! Cars! Cars! Cars! . . . the flashier the better!

Drive-in movies . . . anything British . . . dating very young (your Mum would have a fit at how young!)

American teens are . . . just like British teens but speak differently!
