DAVID IN GERMANY

Dortmund, Hamburg, Offenbach - these were the German stops on David Cassidy's first European tour. He was greeted with cheers everywhere. BRAVO spoke to David in Düsseldorf shortly before his first appearance in front of a German audience...

When David is on stage, the teens hold their breath - his show is crazy! You won't recognize David in private. reserved right: The London BRAVO correspondent Margit Rietti leafs through a few BRAVO magazines with David in Düsseldorf. "There are a lot of Cassidy stories in them," he said happily

Annemarie, a chambermaid at the elegant Park Hotel in Düsseldorf, no longer understood the world: When she went to suite 222 on the second floor as usual around 4 p.m. on Friday afternoon to prepare the bed for the night, two angry Americans jumped out at her.. "Don't come in here again without calling first," one of them hissed at her in broken German. Don't you know that David Cassidy lives here?"
