PRETTY TRENDY DP

FAB is happy to announce that Dorothy Perkins' fashion rating is going right up this autumn—'cos they've just started selling a range of dresses by one of our brightest young designers, Ann Reeves. Ann's dresses always seem to combine feminine prettiness with the latest in trends. The plum crepe frock in our picture (left) has a shirred bodice, a wide sash tying at the back, and a big bright bunch of up-to-the-minute fruit at the neck—and all for £5.95. It's the first of the range (many of which are long dresses), and it also comes in cream or black, sizes 1, 2 or 3, from all branches of Dorothy Perkins.

There's no doubt about it! Your favourite family—by a mile—has six members and comes all the way from sunny California via your TV screens. Anyone who has had to wait for us to say "PARTIDGE FAMILY" to know who we're talking about gets 0 out of 10!
