

David and his Paradise

A new life has begun for David Cassidy in his dream home in Montecito, California, where he recently moved. With the new house came a new love: Kay Lenz. No wonder David feels like he's in seventh heaven. BRAVO visited him at his "Casa Coyote."

David in a thoughtful pose: Here he is pondering over a script while getting a tan. As a vegetarian, he is content with a cheese sandwich.

David's house is surrounded by spacious gardens.
