

DAVID arrived at the party blindfolded! It was such a secret, Kay took him on a zany car ride to confuse him. It worked—he didn't know where he was, even after he arrived. The restaurant was decorated to look like "Rick's Cafe Americain" in "Casablanca."

DAVID cut the cake—with a karate chop, until someone found a knife. He took the first messy bite, too.

SHAUN's friend David Joliffe is a pal of David's, too. Everyone had such a good time, the party lasted far into the night, and David and Kay thanked everyone for coming to the affair!

DANCING TO the beat was Richard Hatch, who starred with Kay in a TV-movie.

SUSAN Dey, who starred with David on "The Partridge Family," loved the tropical setting from the film. It was a night everyone will remember forever—especially David! It was a great party for a really great guy! Happy Birthday!
