

Screen Gems expected that production on "The Partridge Family" would have to be shut down for a month as a result of David Cassidy's July 13 surgery for gall bladder removal. It was no simple operation, and recuperation hasn't come about overnight.