Whale soaks David Cassidy

DAVID CASSIDY'S the hottest guy this side of Bobby Sherman — as they're saying at Screen Gems, which has them both in series. And David got swamped by several hundred fans plus a splash from Marineland's 7,000 pound killer whale Orky. David went there to practice a segment of ABC's The Partridge Family that will be filmed there.

The episode deals with ecology and the preservation of marine life. Ungrateful Orky performed an unscheduled belly flop that displaced a few tons of water on Cassidy and his fans. . .Speaking of Partridges, David's stepmother, Shirley Jones, was the first of the Family to record her own single. It's called "I've Still Got My Heart, Joe," and it's on Bell records.
