

DAVID CASSIDY

Concert In Charlotte

David Cassidy To Sing

CHARLOTTE — Add to the list of bobby-soxer and teenybopper idols the name of David Cassidy, who is scheduled to appear at Charlotte Coliseum April 30 at 4 p.m.

Cassidy, 5 feet 8, 130 pounds, choirboy face, brown hair and hazel eyes is the latest in the line who have throbbled out songs that unnerve the female adolescents of the country.

Preceding him were such singers as Elvis Presley, Bobby Rydell and Ricky Nelson. And from an earlier era there was Frank Sinatra and even Rudy Vallee.

The newest idol, who records for Bell Records, is credited with 98 per cent of the sales of Partridge Family singles and albums. Tabbed the hottest attraction in show business, he appears to sell out crowds no matter where he goes.

Despite the fact that his father is the famous Jack Cassidy and his stepmother is the lovely Academy Award winner Shirley Jones, David has achieved his place strictly on his own. He does co-star with Miss Jones in the television series, "The Partridge Family."

In his television role he is lead singer and guitarist in a family musical combo. Off the screen he also plays drums. He is also a composer and song writer,

His latest single record is "Could It Be Forever?" Others which were top sellers with the Partridge Family were "I Think I Love You" and "Doesn't Somebody Want To Be Wanted."

Tickets for the show are priced at $6, $5 and $4, and are now on sale at the Coliseum Box Office or by mail order.