David Cassidy's locks didn't hold up; Partridge Family records did.

David Cassidy

Hairstyle: Fluffy long '70s hair with bangs down to his eyebrows.

Breakthrough single: The Partridge Family's greatest hit, "I Think I Love You," spent three weeks at No. 1 in 1970.

Age at time of breakthrough: 20.

Crush-worthy lyric: "I woke up in love this morning/Went to sleep with you ... on my mind," from "I Woke Up in Love This Morning."

PG moment: Hoping to distance himself from the squeaky-clean image of Keith Partridge, he posed nude from the waist up for a Rolling Stone cover story endearingly titled "Naked Lunch Box."

Staying power: Not much, sad to say, but those old Partridge Family records have held up surprisingly well. He has had some success on Broadway and enjoyed a minor comeback hit in 1990 with a song called "Lyin' to Myself."
